REPUBLICAN TICKET.

FOR PRESIDENT,
Wm. McKinley,
Ohio.
FOR VICE PRESIDENT,
Theodore Roosevelt,
New York.
FOR GOVERNOR,
John W. Yerkes,
Ohio.
FOR CONGRESS,
Mr. J. J. Kelly,
Breckinridge County.

THERE is no question now as to the inspiration of Weaver, the strolling barber, all will concede that. There seem to be different kinds of inspiration and Mr. Weaver's doubtless came from that $100,000 corruption fund. Certainly he was Democratically inspired since his bond was only put at $200 for attempting to swear a man's life away. Most assuredly great men, we concede Weaver's inspiration.

MR. BRYAN has stated time and again that he is in sympathy with the great common people, that the will of the majority is the law of the land and we would like to believe him sincere, but it is impossible until he explains away the mystery of his coming to Kentucky against the protest of his own fellow partisans, and the following telegram which he sent Mr. Goebel:

LONDON, N.Y., Nov. 9, 1899.
To the Hon. William Goebel, Frankfort, Ky.:
I have just learned that returns are near enough complete to insure your election. Accepting hearty congratulations. I am sure your administration will strengthen the party.

WILLIAM J. BRYAN.
This is aiding and encouraging theft and there is no way for him to get out of the dilemma. Mr. Bryan, the people of Kentucky have done with you and with consent of a majority it has been thought best to "drop you right here."

But without multiplying words to prove the vanity of any claim, or stopping to inveigh against the fraud and intimidation that has been practiced against the Democratic candidates as usual. Relying upon the most accurate figures at command from all sources, it appears that Gen. W. S. Taylor and the whole Republican ticket have been elected by majorities ranging from less than three thousand to 10,000. There are extraordinary claims on both sides, but we are giving the situation as we truly believe it stands without any intention of misleading anybody. (Hartford Herald, Nov. 26th, 1899.)

If the Herald was sincere in the expression on the 29th of November 1899, we are curious to know what it thinks now. The campaign is opening and many people would be delighted if the Herald would stop and explain where it is "at" now, from its course and its saying we find it quite difficult to locate it.

THE persecution trial at Georgetown has been remarkable in fact there is not a parallel in Kentucky history. So biased and partisan was Judge Cantrell in his ruling that the attorneys for the defense have expected to about one hundred and twenty-five of the courts rulings and made avowals in perhaps 75 instances. This trial will go down in history with these facts recorded against Judge Cantrell. Certainly such a man should never disgrace a judiciary of this State, especially when a man is on trial for his life. The Dreyfus case in France can not be compared to this. Is there not a Zola somewhere to take up the cause of the persecution and secure for them a fair and impartial trial. How long will the God of men endure such among his children, can not be foretold, assuredly the time is not far distant.

IN Mr. Bryan's whole speech accepting the nomination he absolutely refused to mention free silver at all, wonderful to tell. He has centered his wind jammer on imperialism and we venture to assert that he is as ignorant of its real meaning as "Cholly" Wheeler. It is a great big something undefinable, without breadth and thickness, something imaginary and nothing in reality, excepting a scarecrow as was free silver. Now the silver issue is dead and Bryan is gasping his last, after November he will be a thing of the past, and the Democratic party will be in need of a new issue. Within the past ten years it has abandoned the income tax, free trade and free silver. It is only a matter of time when it will abandon Bryan and his foolishness and take up some other scape goat. Its brains are to be found in those of its independent spirits.

It is conceded by every one that the Democratic aspirants for State offices were defeated and they came in possession of that which the people desired them by means of the Goebel election law, and yet they declare in their platform, that with one more trial at this law it can be made to accomplish its purpose. Its author had made it possible for the Democratic party to be successful in one of two ways. First, by trickery at the polls, and if that failed, his second plan was to steal it as he has done. As we see the workings of this measure its purpose has already been accomplished. It certainly worked admirably. This law of human depravity is the "fruitful source of all our woes," says Waterson, the turncoat. It is this act that caused the best men in the Democratic party to bolt. It was this together with the character of the man that bore the title—Democratic candidate for Governor; that caused the Brown party to assume its being. These are truths which none dare dispute, and yet good men praise and honor the ghost of Goebel as though it were a saint. Until men regain their reason and drop their party when it becomes the sponsor of fraud, trickery and robbery, we will have strife in our State which will end in revolution. The same spirit which caused the downfall of Rome is brooding in the Goebel party of Kentucky. The sensible should stop a moment and take his bearing and see where the elements of party passion hath driven him, and before casting another ballot consider his country's good before his party's welfare.

Does He Dare.

MR. BECKHAM has been challenged by Mr. Yerkes to a joint debate of the issues before the people to-day. Will he accept? He will not. Why, because in a moral or mental combat with an intellectual athlete like Mr. Yerkes, he could hope for nothing but immediate annihilation. No man can defend Mr. Beckham's cause. It is fraud, robbery and assassination of the ballot, which no man, can defend. It has been charged by the Republican party and the Brown Democrats that Mr. Beckham has accepted a stolen office, that his cause is as infamous as that of Satan, and if these charges be not true, why should Mr. Beckham decline an invitation to demonstrate this fact to the public? The place for vindication is before the people and accuser should meet the accused, face to face with the great common people. Who ever heard of an honest man running from the truth, or refusing to meet the defender of evil on the stump? The principles which Mr. Yerkes proposes to defend, with Mr. Beckham, are either right or they are wrong. Mr. Beckham's are right or they are wrong. It is impossible for both to be right, different as they are. Now if young Beckham believes himself right let him come before the people with Mr. Yerkes and prove himself clear of the false charges. This he will do if his cause is an honorable one. Mr. Waterson in discussing the probability of the joint debates in Tuesday's Courier Journal, said:

But, in Kentucky at this time, and with the peculiar issues that divide the two parties, the suggestion of a joint debate is an invitation to riot and bloodshed. Assuming Mr. Yerkes and Mr. Beckham to be men of spirit, their personal relations could not survive their first meeting. It may be doubted whether if they themselves survived it there could be a second meeting without a tragic conclusion.

What's wrong with the issues Mr. Waterson? What is peculiar about the issues? It is just simply thievish enthronement versus justice dethroned. Would you and your co-partners in thievish grow blood thirsty when you are brought face to face with those whom you have robbed? Little Mr. Beckham would not be touched by a single man. Who would care to slay his jaws or give him a genuine spanking? If you are afraid that the Republicans would harm your baby boy—you can have all the bond you may demand for the guaranty of his physical safety, but we are rather of the opinion that he would be mortally wounded intellectually. We really believe that Mr. Waterson is right, for the Democrats have grown desperate in their deeds of robbery, and are on the eve of political disintegration, as well as moral ruin, and in this condition they might prove a gang of brazen desperadoes. If your cause was just and your man an honorable one, you would not decline the challenge, but would gladly accept.

The Defamer of Truth.

In our last issue we answered the question which the Herald scribbled, or assumed editor asked, and referring to our article this is the manner of rebuttal, which our esteemed christian contemporary resorts to:

THE HARTFORD REPUBLICAN, in an effort to answer the Herald's question of who has had the contents of his pockets pilfered by the Democratic leaders of Kentucky—as charged by the Fox ally sheet—replies by naming the defeated Republican candidates for State offices, and adds: "Besides these, every other citizen of Kentucky." This, as every sensible person knows, is not only false, but a plain, common campaign lie. Of course nobody knows of a single instance where the Democratic leaders have had their hands in any man's pocket, "stealing every vestige of its contents." But nothing better could be expected of a sheet which has proven itself not only an organ of political assassination, but a defamer and assassin of human character as well.

Abuse, billingsgate and opprobrium sufficient to vent the spleen of an uneducated, illiterate, inexperienced, nervous editor, but it will not be accepted by an enlightened public as argument. The gentlemen whom we named were everyone elected to the State offices, which the little Herald man admitted on the 29th of last November. In order that the public may see wherein the Herald man has lied, falsified, misrepresented, prevaricated purged himself, or any other term that may be applied other than the truth, we give the salaries of each of the deposed State officers, as fixed by law: Governor, $6,500; Attorney General, $4,000; Secretary of State, $3,000; Treasurer, $3,000; Auditor, $3,000; Superintendent of Public Instruction, $2,500; Commissioner of Agriculture, $2,500.

The public will bear in mind that the Herald man, or the assumed editor said on November 29, 1899, that Gen. Taylor and the whole Republican ticket had been elected by majorities ranging from less than 3,000. Now we shall not stop to quibble about the election for that point is not in dispute. Gov. Taylor should have received $6,500 this year for serving as Governor, and the same sum for three succeeding years; under the Goebel law he was robbed of the office of Governor, and $26,000 was stolen from him by such men as the editor of the Hartford Herald. Mr. Powers was robbed of $12,000, Mr. Day $12,000, Mr. Pratt $16,000, Mr. Sweeney $14,400, Mr. Burk $10,000 and Mr. Throckmorton $10,000. Our contemporary, who only for argument is abuse, will either have to admit our point or become a criminal with those who have committed the blackest crimes ever recorded in history. We yet maintain that every citizen of Kentucky has been robbed—robbed of that which is more precious than gold or silver—his liberty. In the name of fairness we appeal to the Herald's editor or its assumed editor, to lay aside his abusive and vindictive language and explain what became of the majority which he or the assumed editor admitted that the whole Republican ticket received.

It is the motto of THE REPUBLICAN editors to deal kindly with gentlemen, and it has been extremely painful that we have been forced to deal with a man, who makes a proposition one day and next day turns round and swears he didn't make use of it. We would not censure honest men for committing an act which they consider honest, but the editor or the assumed editor is so persistent in defending a set of election thieves, that we are forced to regard him with his kind. He is a thief's defender and a robber's defender, and is no better himself than the balance of them. A thief is as good as the man who supports and sanctions what the thief does. If the Herald man will prove himself clear of this charge in his next issue, we will quit the field and never again take up the editor's pen.

The Burdens of Goebelism are Exceedingly Heavy.

The longer men are engaged in out lawry and crime, the more brazen they become. We note from the pages of history that men engaged in evil and wrong doing, are invariably, in their condemnation of crime, the loudest and most persistent denunciators of any sort of crime. So it is to-day in our own State. Those men, who have performed the very blackest deeds of infamy, who have done more to overthrow the ballot box and establish a reign of terror in our own State, and who have slandered the ministry and the press for upholding the right, talk louder and longer about fairness in elections; majority rule and the sanctity of the ballot than all the law abiding people in the whole country. These men are most vehement in abusing their opponents for exercising a privilege granted every freeman. Among the most vindictive and brazen local journalists in the country is the editor of the Shelbyville Sentinel. With unexcelled impudence; with the most arrogant audacity; with characteristic hypocrisy the Sentinel asserts:

The leaders of the Republican, however, hasten to leave him, and tell him that all the talk about the election law, however, and that in reality they got a fair deal under its operations than under the old law, and that they only used all their talk about unfairness to catch a few over-sensitive snakes amongst the Democrats.

The whole of this is misleading as its author knew not a scintilla of truth permeates it, but falsehood instead, covers its whole face. The leaders have not represented to Mr. Hanna that all the talk about the election law was buncombe, that they got a fair deal under its operation than formerly. Every intelligent man, no matter what his political affiliations may be, knows that this is an unmitigated falsehood. "Under the operation of the Goebel law, the result is not left to chance," says Waterson. "If any stealing is done in this election the Republicans won't do it," said Goebel. "I am ready to bet my soul's salvation against a counterfeit penny that if any stealing is done, the other fellows will not do it," Jo Blackburn the eulogist. Notwithstanding these facts our esteemed contemporary presumes to say that the cry of possible fraud, and fraud practiced is all "rot." Such an assertion coming from a gentleman of note is indeed surprising, and such only appears in these journals which have been completely Goebelizd, yet pursuing his course further, he grows into a fit of hallucination, continuing he says:

There is not a single Republican leader in Kentucky who does not know that the Democrats can not, if they would, steal the election, and if they had the power there is not a one of them who would have a single chance made in the law.

Whether the Democrats can or can not steal the election under the present law, we know it has been done in open violation of the constitution, and our contemporary is certainly not so biased but that he too, can see the theft practiced.

W. S. Taylor received 193,714 votes in the last election, William Goebel received 191,331 at the same election. Taylor's majority was 2,383. Who is acting Governor? Upon the face of the returns, Taylor was declared elected and duly qualified as governor. The contest committee could have thrown out some counties on charges preferred and reversed the decision of the people, but that committee chose to declare Goebel Governor under the Goebel law, and this declaration was ratified by a rump Legislature. If the Democrats did not steal the election, will not some good friend explain how they came in possession of the offices. If there is anything certain that is known to man, it is the fact that W. S. Taylor was elected Governor of Kentucky and that Wm. Goebel was defeated for the office of Governor. We would impress upon upon the mind of our contemporary that his party's men have obtained the offices, which the people denied them, through a pure case of fraud. The offices have been stolen as every one knows, and as a matter of course, those who sanction this fraud will be very reluctant in acknowledging it; still it remains the same. Indeed the burdens of Goebelism are onerous.

A. M. Stevenson Deserts Bryan

Denver, Colo., August 11.—A. M. Stevenson, who, in 1896, as a delegate at large from Colorado, with Senator Teller and others, walked out of the national convention, and who afterward assisted in organizing the silver Republican party, to day resigned the chairmanship of the party in this State, and announced his return to the Republican party. He made public a letter in which he declares the silver question is no longer a paramount issue, and will not be for years to come. On the question of expansion he does not agree with the Democratic party, he says.

THIN HAIR. Lots of people have thin hair. Perhaps their parents had thin hair; perhaps their children have thin hair. But this does not make it necessary for them to have thin hair.

One thing you may rely upon—AYER'S HAIR VIGOR makes the hair healthy and vigorous; makes it grow thick and long. It cures dandruff also.

It always restores color to gray hair, all the dark, rich color of early life. There is no longer need of your looking old before your time.

As a remedy for restoring color to the hair, I believe Ayer's Hair Vigor has no equal. It has always given me perfect satisfaction in every way.

This district has been terribly afflicted with what are known there as "cider houses." For the past five or six years parties have been selling, especially near the Falls, what is called Polk's cider. It is claimed that it would make a man drunk quicker and stay drunk longer and be meaner while he was drunk than any "but-skull" ever manufactured. Under the general law for selling without license it was impossible to convict these parties because that law is only against selling spirituous, vinous or malt liquors and a prosecution would fail because it could not be shown that this cider was either spirituous, vinous or malt. In 1898 various citizens in and around the Falls united in an effort to have the Legislature enact a law that would reach the parties who were selling this cider. The result was that an act was passed March 15th, 1898, which prohibits the sale of any intoxicating beverage in any local option district. After its enactment it was discovered that it did not cover the locality in and around the Falls of Rough, the very locality for whose benefit the act was passed, because it was not a local option district. By the vote of Saturday, though it has become a local option district and that vote marks the demise of the "cider houses" in Short Creek Magisterial district, they will soon be things of the past, and the places that have known them heretofore will know them no more. There is no man fool enough to buck up against this law. It is broad and comprehensive, makes it an offense to sell, barter or loan, directly or indirectly, any beverage, liquid, mixture or decoction of any kind, which produces intoxication, on any place where the local option law is in force. The penalty is very severe, being from twenty to one hundred dollars for each offense and each sale is a separate offense.

The examining trial of Jesse Durham, the murderer of his aunt, Mrs. Anna Brunton, was a novelty from the fact that it took place on a moving train. To prevent any action of a mob in Mrs. Brunton's county and to comply with the law that the trial be held in the county where the crime was committed necessitated swift and vigorous measures. The prisoner was placed on an I. C. train, which traverses about four miles of Meade county soil, and while slowly passing through the county, the trial was conducted in due form and order, every thing being in readiness. As was expected the prisoner waived an examining trial and was recommitted to jail in Louisville--Brekenridge News.

About two years ago he returned to his old home in Virginia, where he has since resided. Mr. Dyer is 82 years old, but looks to be about 60. He is erect and walks without a cane and can read remarkably well without glasses. He is a first cousin to Hon. P. H. Dyer, of Missouri. The life of Mr. Dyer has been spent in the reveries of a bachelor.

EXTRACTS FROM JUDGE SIMS' SPEECH.

Severe Arraignment--Manufacturers of Evidence Scored.

The following is a brief report of Judge Sims' scathing argument in opening the defense of Caleb Powers: Mr. Sims, walking over to the side of the room occupied by the lawyers for the Commonwealth, said: Show me the man that testified that Caleb Powers, when in Louisville, stated that it looked suspicious for him to be there, and that he had to return to Frankfort. He said that the lawyers for the Commonwealth had endeavored to leave the jury under the impression that immediately after Goebel was shot the doors and the windows of the executive building bristled with bayonets. He declared that not one witness had testified that this condition existed. He claimed that the Commonwealth had never proved that Goebel was shot from the Secretary of State's office.

"They have proved," thundered the speaker, "that Powers raised the crowd of mountain men. He admitted that and says that probably he was more instrumental in bringing them there than any other person. But I want to ask here and now where and by whom have they proven that these men were taken to Frankfort for an unlawful purpose."

"We do not uphold assassination, and it is to be condemned, but I want you, gentlemen of the jury, to bear in mind the fact that this defendant cannot be convicted on testimony of these accomplices." NOT SHOT FROM POWERS' OFFICE. The speaker argued that the Commonwealth had shown that the rate of fall of a straight line drawn from the second window in Powers' office to the hole in the hackberry tree was 13-16 of an inch, yet the rate of descent of the ball in Goebel's body was 13-16 inches. After Drs. Ely, Hume and Welsh had been put on the stand, he said, and the inconsistency of the Commonwealth's theory on this point had been demonstrated, then Dr. South was called to testify that a man in walking raised and lowered his shoulders, and that the skin was drawn tighter across the back when one was ascending an incline. This, he says, was done to excuse the falsity of their theory that the bullet which killed Goebel was fired from Powers' office and lodged in the hackberry tree.

"Ah! they knew that Senator Goebel was not stoop-shouldered. He was erect. They knew he did not raise one shoulder a half an inch and lower the other three quarters of an inch when he walked. They try to show you that Goebel fell where the nails are driven in the pavement. Who has said so in so many words? Have you not been told that Goebel fell to the South, to the North to the East and to the West of those nails?" ALLEGED COUNTER CONSPIRACY. "When were those nails driven there? I'll tell you. They were put there after a line had been drawn from Powers' office to the hackberry tree. Now let us see who saw Goebel shot. Many say they saw him fall, but who saw the gun pointed from Powers' office? Ed Steffe says he did, and 'Strolling Weaver' says he did. Weaver, strolling, strolling everywhere, says he saw the assassin's gun. I want to ask here and now who was responsible for bringing into this court room a man who, by false testimony, tried to swear this defendant's life away? I say who brought Weaver here? Somebody did. He did not come unsolicited.

"Don't you know that one of the attorneys of the Commonwealth was sworn in as a special bailiff and brought him here?" "It has been proved that Weaver swore to infamous lies, and a man who does that against another on trial for his life is a scoundrel and worse than an assassin."

"Oh! what a tangled web to weave When first in practice to deceive." "Now, let me tell you, it they get Beckham Calls Extra Session.

Frankfort, Ky., Aug. 15.—At 12:30 o'clock the long delayed call for an extra session of the Legislature was given to the public by Gov. Beckham. It is extremely short, and only one subject is mentioned, the Goebel election law. The proclamation is as follows:

"In accordance with Section 80 of the Constitution, I, J. C. W. Beckham, Governor of the Commonwealth of Kentucky, do hereby call the General Assembly of the Commonwealth to convene in the city of Frankfort on Tuesday, August 27, 1900.

"I regard the occasion for the call as extraordinary, and I designate as the subject to be considered by the General Assembly when it shall meet on the date aforesaid, the modification or amendment of the existing laws regulating elections in this State.

"In testimony whereof I have caused these letters to be made patent and the seal of the Commonwealth to be hereunto affixed.

"Done at Frankfort, the 17th day of August, 1900, and in the 109th year of the Commonwealth.

"J. C. W. BECKHAM, "C. B. HILL, Secretary of State."

As the call is for the amendment or the modification of the Goebel election law, there is no necessity for a prolonged session, unless there be a deadlock, which is quite likely. At any rate, there is no prospect of the machine controlling both houses. In the Senate there are thirteen Republicans, five anti-machine Democrats and one Populist, making nineteen in all, a tie vote in that branch of the Legislature, not counting Senator Harrel, who is not likely to vote with the gang who threw him down so hard.

one man like Weaver they may have got others."

Then the speaker mentioned the names of Golden, Culton, Noaks and Anderson, and said that while Weaver was not a Golden, he was a golden stroller.

Mr. Sims paid a tribute to Powers and told of his straightforward manner on the witness stand. He said the prisoner had nothing to conceal and had told the whole truth. He declared that combined legal talent of "New York, Ohio and Kentucky" could not confuse Powers, and he was unscathed by the rigid cross-examination to which he was subjected by the Commonwealth.

COL CAMPBELL ATTACKED. The speaker pointed to the fact that every one of the Commonwealth's strong witnesses had been examined by Col. T. C. Campbell and that all the numerous confessions had made it point to confess to Col. Campbell first. He said this was truly remarkable and a strange coincidence. Yet, the speaker asked the jurors to remember that even the so-called star witnesses had confessed, their minds had to be refreshed when they were on the witness stand by huge bundles of notes held by Col. Campbell.

Mr. Sims then cited the arrest of Noaks to the jury and told of Col. Campbell having gone to Virginia under an assumed name.

"I thank God," shouted the speaker, "that such tactics are not practiced by lawyers in Kentucky."

During his reproaches to Col. Campbell, Mr. Sims looked straight at the lawyer for the Commonwealth. His ridicule of the New York attorney was severe and stinging. The speaker displayed much satire and made his words stronger by his gestures and facial expressions. He spoke of Caleb Powers' "open, honest face, as compared with the hang-dog countenances of Noaks, Culton, Golden, Anderson and Weaver," and said that a man with Powers' face could not be guilty of the crime with which he is charged.

The speaker touched the $100,000 reward fund, and said that when Culton was on the stand he did not say that he had received any money up to that time, but did not say he was not expecting a part of the $100,000.

Henry Watterson gives his estimate of Gov. Roosevelt thus: "Youthful, well-balanced, a gentleman, a co-puncher, a man of letters, a man of action, a clear-headed politician, a dashing soldier, he has the respect of those to whom ability, both mental and physical, appeals, and he has the admiration of those whom accomplishment, whether in the field of politics, arms of literature, impresses."

Facts About the Trial.

These figures give some idea of the scope of the Caleb Powers murder trial, now rapidly approaching its climax and conclusion: Length of trial, approximated, 6 1/2 weeks.

Number of witnesses, 155. Witnesses recalled, 17. Time taken in offering evidence, 29 days.

Number of arguments, 10. Duration of speeches, 4 days. Exceptions by the defense, 120. Exceptions by the Commonwealth, 12.

Avowals by the defense, 65. Avowals by the Commonwealth, 1. Estimated cost to the State, $20,000. The last four figures are approximated. The other statements are from the official record.—Louisville Post.

THE COURSE

OF INJUSTICE.

I.

Nothing so degrades the law as crime committed under the forms of law. When the mob at Cincinnati burned the courthouse they did it because one criminal after another had been granted immunity under forms of law, and because, under the forms of law the criminal classes had been protected in their crimes, and special privileges had been given them to prey upon the community.

The Legislature of Kentucky assumed to set aside the choice of the people and to install a usurper in office as Governor of the State. Judge Harlan, in his dissenting opinion, referring to this action of the Board of Censors, says:

"No such force under the guise of formal proceedings was ever elected in the presence of a free people. We take pride in the fact that our American governments are governments of law and not of men. That which we do is not equivalent to a decision of judgment or determination by the Legislature of a matter committed to it by law. It should be regarded merely as an exercise of arbitrary power by a given number of men who defied the law. It is not a pleasant thing to say, but after a thorough examination of the record a sense of duty constrains me to say that the declaration of that body of men, that Goebel was legally elected, ought not to be respected in any court as a determination of the question in issue, but should be regarded only as action taken outside of law, in utter contempt of the constitutional right of freemen to select their rulers."

II.

This reference is to the action of the Legislature: a review of the action of the Contest Committee would have brought forth from the learned Justice even more vehement language. A committee arranged to hear the contest, listen to evidence and report to the Legislature was fixed by curious devices so that there were only three Republicans among the twenty-two members. This board opened the doors to the contestants and permitted the lawyers of Mr. Goebel to introduce any matter from any source, to impugn the action of every source, to bring in question the election in over forty different counties, and to put upon the stand any man to testify to anything they deemed necessary.

But when the contesters, through their lawyers, and impeached the election held in Mr. Goebel's own county, when they asked the committee to listen to stories they were about to substantiate by unimpeachable witnesses, the committee promptly and arbitrarily refused to hear.

What that committee declined to listen to, the people of Kentucky will listen to, and their ears will tingle. The story of the election in Mr. Goebel's own county was a story of fraud and corruption not surpassed in the days of carpet baggism in South Carolina, Mississippi or Louisiana. It reads more like the crime of the middle ages than a story of crime committed against the suffrage in the Commonwealth of Kentucky. These crimes are well known to all men in the

For more than twenty-five years Dr. J. Newton Hathaway has made a specialty of Female Diseases. During that time he has had among his patients over ten thousand women, suffering from all those many different complaints peculiar to females, and has completely and permanently cured more than 90 per cent. of the cases he has treated.

By his exclusive method, which he has perfected during the twenty-five years of his extensive practice, he is enabled to cure all of these different diseases, including painful, profuse or suppressed menstruation, profluvium, ovarian trouble, tumors and ulceration—in fact, every form of those diseases which make a burden of life to the great majority of women. He has so perfected this system of his that he can treat these cases with absolute safety, and without any operation, with its consequent pain and necessary danger.

His system of treatment is taken in the privacy of the home; the cure is painless and is positive.

ONE LOW FEE. Write him a letter stating briefly your condition and he will send you a blank to be filled out. He will give you his case his personal attention and care and make his fee so moderate (including all medicines necessary) that you will not feel the burden of the payment, and he will guarantee you a perfect cure.

counties of Campbell and Kenton, yet they have gone unpunished. The refusal of the committee to hear brought from Judge Vost a most earnest protest. He declared it to be an act of absolute injustice, and one which involved the greatest issue involved in any case tried in the State of Kentucky. Gov. Bradley was even more emphatic. He said in conclusion:

"I do not think this board desires to prevent us from having a fair opportunity to present this case. I can not believe that. The issue involved in it is too grave. I cannot believe that any gentleman of this board is actuated by a feeling of that sort. You want to get through with the case as quickly as you can. I don't blame you for it; God knows I want to get through with it as quickly as I can. If you were pulled and hauled about by 2,000 witnesses, and asked what time they would get to testify, called at 1 and 2 o'clock in the morning as I have been, you would want to get through with it even quicker. I simply ask this board, in common fairness and justice, to give us at least some reasonable time in which to present the most salient points in this case. My friend Hendricks says that decency requires that we shall get through with this case. I say that decency requires that we shall have an honest opportunity to be heard, and it is indecent to deny us this opportunity. I want to say to this board that we have discharged not less than 500 witnesses on the main issue in this case, that were presented because we knew we could not use them, and we have suffered as much as the gentlemen on the other side could possibly have suffered in that respect."

All the pleading was in vain. That committee, appointed to determine whether or not, at a fair election held in Kentucky, Mr. Taylor had been elected Governor, refused to listen to the story of Kenton; refused to hear from inspectors had been excluded from the polls by force and fraud; refused to hear from Precinct B, Second ward; Precinct E, Second ward; Precinct F, Second ward; refused to hear a word, in fact, of all the proceedings in Kenton county. For illustration: In a number of precincts in the city of Covington persons were admitted as inspectors who had credentials signed by one George Glendon. Said Glendon had no official position in the organization of any political party in Kenton county. In Precinct F, Sixth ward, the Republican inspector, L. B. Anderson, duly appointed, was forcibly ejected. And so all over the county of Kenton; yet not a word of this was permitted to be heard by the committee.

Having thus refused to hear the evidence the committee was ready to make its report, and it made it "under the forms of law," to promote the interests of the lawless.

All this will pass in review before the people. What was refused by the committee will be demanded by the people, and the people will pass judgment on the men who have tried to destroy free institutions in Kentucky—Louisville Post.

UNITED STATES ULTIMATUM

Secretary Hay Demands Free Intercourse With Conger as a Right.

The State department has made public the following correspondence between Li Hung Chang and the department regarding the abandonment of the campaign in Pekin:

Telegram sent to the United States embassies in Berlin, London, Paris, Rome and St. Petersburg, and to the United States minister, Tokio:

In reply to a suggestion of Li Hung Chang that the ministers might be sent under safe escort to Tien Tsin provided the powers would engage not to march on Pekin, the secretary of state replied on the 30th of July:

"This government will not enter into any arrangement regarding disposition or treatment of legation with out first having free communication with Minister Conger. Responsibility for the protection rests upon Chinese government. Power to deliver at Tien Tsin, presupposed power to protect and to open communication. That is insisted on."

This message was delivered by Mr. Goodnow on the 31st to Viceroy Li, who then inquired whether, "If free communication were established between ministers and their governments, it could be arranged that the powers should not advance on Pekin pending negotiations."

To this inquiry the following reply was sent on the 1st of August:

"Goodnow, Consul General, Shanghai. 'I do not think it expedient to submit the proposition of Earl Li to the other powers. Free communication with our representatives in Pekin is demanded as a matter of absolute right, and not as a favor. Since the Chinese government admits that it possesses the power to give friendly attitude by denying it. No negotiations seem advisable until the Chinese government shall have put the diplomatic representatives of the powers in full and free communication with their respective governments and remove all danger to their lives and liberty. We would urge Earl Li earnestly to advise the imperial authorities of China to place themselves in friendly communication and co-operation with the relief expedition. They are assuming a heavy responsibility in acting otherwise. (Signed) HAY.'"

You will communicate this information to the minister of foreign affairs.

Lives Thirty-five Days Without Food or Water.

Williamstown, Ky., Aug. 12.—A story comes from Corinth of a goose that lived thirty-five days without food or water. The story is as follows:

E. Ith, the bright but eccentric, brother of A. Z. Frenkel, was the owner of a fine specimen of the West India goose. It became troublesome about the house, when shut away from its friends with a drove of fatter hens. On the 3rd of June the boys were driven to market. The goose followed them and was lost by the wayside. A

SORES and ULCERS DRAIN THE SYSTEM, ENDANGER LIFE.

That old sore or ulcer, which has been a source of pain, worry and anxiety to you for five or ten years—maybe longer—doesn't heal because you are not using the proper treatment, but are trying to cure it with salves and washes. While these are soothing and relieve pain to some extent, no real, permanent good can come from their use, because the disease is in the blood and far beyond the reach of external applications.

A sore heals promptly when the blood is in good condition, but never if it is diseased. The tendency of these old sores and ulcers is to grow worse, spreading and eating deeper into the flesh. They are a constant drain upon the system, gradually but surely ruin the health and sap the very life. A person's capacity for work or pleasure is soon lost in the great desire and search for something to cure. S. S. S. makes a rapid and permanent cure of old sores and ulcers, and is the only medicine that does, because no other can reach deep-seated blood troubles. Ordinary Sarsaparilla and potash mixtures are too weak and watery to overcome a deadly poison that has taken possession of the blood. Do not waste valuable time experimenting with them.

A Gunshot Wound. Some years ago I was shot in the left leg, receiving what I considered only a slight wound. It developed into a large sore and gave me a great deal of pain. I was treated by many doctors, and took a number of blood remedies, but none did me any good. I had heard S. S. S. highly recommended and concluded to try it. The result was truly gratifying. S. S. S. seemed to get right at the trouble, and forced the poison out of my blood; soon afterwards the sore healed up and was cured sound and well. I now have perfect use of the leg, which was swollen and very stiff for a long time. J. H. McBRAYER, Lawrenceburg, Ky.

S. S. S. is the only purely vegetable blood purifier known; it is made of roots and herbs of wonderful purifying properties, which no poison can resist. S. S. S. quickly and effectually clears the blood of all morbid, unhealthy humors, and the old, troublesome sores heal. At the same time the general health is invigorated and built up. When a little scratch or hurt fails to heal readily, you may be sure your blood is bad. S. S. S. will soon put it in order and keep it so.

Our Medical Department is in charge of experienced physicians, who have made blood diseases a life study. If you will write them about your case, they will gladly furnish all information or advice wanted, without any charge whatever. Address SWIFT SPECIFIC CO., ATLANTA, GA.

search throughout the entire neighborhood failed to locate the pet, and little Edith mourned her as lost. On the fifth day of August J. C. Sleet's little grandson found the goose in a deep culvert by the railroad, imprisoned so that it could not possibly get out. It was rescued and taken back to Edith, who rejoiced as much as the father over the return of the prodigal son. The goose had evidently lived all that time—thirty-five days—without food or water.
